APPENDIX 2: DEFINITION

Early Stage Cancer

(a) Carcinoma in situ

Carcinoma in situ (CIS) means the focal autonomous new growth of carcinomatous cells confined to the cells in which it originated and has not yet resulted in the invasion and/or destruction of surrounding tissues. 'Invasion' means an infiltration and/or active destruction of normal tissue beyond the basement membrane.

The diagnosis of the Carcinoma in situ must always be supported by a histopathological report. Furthermore, the diagnosis of Carcinoma in situ must always be positively diagnosed upon the basis of a microscopic examination of the fixed tissue, supported by a biopsy result. Clinical diagnosis does not meet this standard.

In the case of the cervix uteri, Pap smear alone is not acceptable and should be accompanied with cone biopsy or colposcopy with the cervical biopsy report clearly indicating presence of CIS. Clinical diagnosis or Cervical Intraepithelial Neoplasia (CIN) classification which reports CIN I, CIN II and CIN III (where there is severe dysplasia without carcinoma in situ) does not meet the required definition and are specifically not covered. Non-melanoma CIS of the skin is also specifically not covered. This coverage is available to the first occurrence of CIS only; or

(b) Early Prostate Cancer

Prostate Cancer that is histologically described using the TNM Classification as T1a or T1b or T1c or Prostate cancers described using another equivalent classification; or

(c) Early Thyroid Cancer

Thyroid Cancer that is histologically described using the TNM Classification as T1N0M0 including Papillary microcarcinoma of thyroid; or

(d) Early Bladder Cancer

Bladder Cancer that is histologically described using the TNM Classification as T1N0M0 including Papillary carcinoma (Ta) of Bladder; or

(e) Early Chronic Lymphocytic Leukaemia

Chronic Lymphoctic Leukaemia (CLL) RAI Stage 1 or 2. CLL RAI stage 0 or lower is not covered.

Intermediate Stage Cancer

Carcinoma in Situ of Specified Organs Treated with Radical Surgery

The actual undergoing of a Radical Surgery due to Carcinoma in situ. The Radical Surgery must be certified to be absolutely necessary by a specialist in the relevant field.

"Radical Surgery" is defined in this Policy as:

i) the total and complete removal of one (1) of the following organs: breast (mastectomy), prostate (prostatectomy), corpus uteri (hysterectomy), ovary (oopherectomy), fallopian tube (salpingectomy); or

ii) partial removal of colon (partial colectomy with end-to-end anastomosis) or stomach (partial gastrectomy with end-to-end anastomosis).

The Diagnosis of the Carcinoma in situ must always be supported by a histopathological report. Furthermore, the Diagnosis of Carcinoma in situ must always be positively diagnosed upon the basis of a microscopic examination of the fixed tissue, supported by a biopsy result. Clinical Diagnosis does not meet this standard.

Early prostate cancer that is histologically described using the TNM Classification as T1a or T1b or T1c or Prostate cancers described using another equivalent classification is also covered if it has been treated with a radical prostatectomy. All grades of cervical intraepithelial neoplasia (CIN) and prostatic intraepithelial neoplasia (PIN) are specifically not covered.

Partial surgical removal such as lumpectomy and partial mastectomy and partial prostatectomy are specifically not covered.

Carcinoma in situ means the focal autonomous new growth of carcinomatous cells confined to the cells in which it originated and has not yet resulted in the invasion and/or destruction of surrounding tissues. 'Invasion' means an infiltration and/or active destruction of normal tissue beyond the basement membrane. The diagnosis of the Carcinoma in situ must always be supported by a histopathological report.

Advanced Stage Cancer

Any malignant tumour positively diagnosed with histological confirmation and characterized by the uncontrolled growth of malignant cells and invasion of tissue. The term malignant tumour includes leukemia, lymphoma and sarcoma.

For the above definition, the following are not covered:

a) All cancers which are histologically classified as any of the following:
   - pre-malignant;
   - non-invasive;
   - carcinoma in situ;
   - having borderline malignancy;
   - having low malignant potential.
b) All tumours of the prostate histologically classified as T1N0M0 (TNM classification).
c) All tumours of the thyroid histologically classified as T1N0M0 (TNM classification).
d) All tumours of the urinary bladder histologically classified as T1N0M0 (TNM classification).
e) Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia less than RAI Stage 3
f) All cancers in the presence of HIV
g) Any skin cancer other than malignant melanoma

Benign Tumour Suspicious of Malignancy and with Surgical Excision

An actual undergoing of a complete surgical excision of a solid benign tumour and such tumour is excised specifically for the purpose of ruling out cancer and is confirmed by histopathological examination by a consultant pathologist to be a non-cancerous (benign) tumour suspicious of malignancy; at any of the following specifically listed organs or sites or anatomical spaces:

a) Heart
b) Liver
c) Lung
d) Pancreas
e) Pericardium
f) Ureter
g) Adrenal Gland
h) Bone
i) Conjunctiva
j) Kidney
k) Cranial Nerves or Spinal Nerves
l) Pituitary gland
m) Small intestine
n) Testis
o) Breast
p) Ovary
q) Penis
r) Uterus in which only endometrial polyps are covered
s) Nasopharyngeal
t) Esophagus
u) Oral Cavity
v) Gallbladder

The decision for excision of tumour must be recommended in writing by a Specialist which the tumour is considered to have a suspicion of malignancy supported by histopathological evidence. All related documentations regarding the need for complete excision of tumour must be provided.

Where there is any doubt about the indication for a complete excision of tumour, the Company reserves the right to obtain an independent opinion from a Specialist.

The below conditions are specifically not covered, even though there is histopathological evidence of suspicious malignancy:

a) Solid tumour in organs that are not listed above;
b) Non-solid tumours;
c) Cysts;
d) Uterine tumours other than endometrial polyps;
e) Stones;
f) Benign hormone secreting tumours of the adrenal glands;
g) High glade dysplasia;
h) Lipoma;
i) Hemangioma;
j) Tumours which were clearly established as benign on radiological criteria or biopsy;
k) Tumours which were clearly established as low malignant potential on radiological criteria or biopsy;
l) Partial excision of a solid tumour;

Any other procedures to reduce tumour size including excision biopsy, needle aspiration biopsy or cytology, or embolization.

“Solid tumour” means an abnormal mass of tissue, which is not a cyst and generally does not contain liquid.
